Aim: The conference with the motto “Let’s care about our environment” is expected to give the young participants the opportunity to exchange about actual political and societal themes and issues as well as their wishes concerning their own future. They will get in touch and make friends with peers from all over the world.

Further information: It would be great if the youths could present their own home town to the others at the beginning of the conference. The presentations should be created at home beforehand and brought to Regensburg. There are no limits to creativity. If possible, please choose a non-digital form of presentation. Various workshops will be provided. The young participants will have the opportunity to work in small groups on different topics, which they will present as part of the closing event on Friday, August 5th 2022.
